INFREG

The Infrastructure Response Equipment Group (INFREG) is a collaboration of UK small and medium-sized businesses specialising in equipment and services in the fields of expeditionary operations and humanitarian aid response.

INFREG was established following an event organised by UKTI DSO to showcase UK capability to overseas military procurement officials. A number of companies taking part were so encouraged by the interest shown in their goods and services that they decided to form a consortium to provide one-stop shop solutions. INFREG currently comprises some 18 companies specialising in power generation, communications, bridging, water purification, security, shelters, lighting, air conditioning, medical supplies, specialist vehicles and portable trackway.

INFREG members will join forces to provide bespoke solutions to specific requirements while still trading as independent businesses. INFREG has a fully flexible market approach which ensures that the most suitable combination of member companies is employed to compete for a particular contract.

UKTI DSO has had, and continues to have, strong working relations with many INFREG members and supported the Group at their official launch in 2010.

The UK has a global reputation for the capability of its smaller businesses – their innovation, quality, cost and delivery; a very strong value for money package. I am delighted to have the opportunity to introduce INFREG to you as a possible solution to your expeditionary and humanitarian aid requirements.
